We also would like to thank Prof Hannah Simonds and her department for hosting the exams at Stellenbosch University and all the examiners that took part in this successful October 2018 examination process. Thank you for the time and effort put into building our speciality. We are pleased that a member of the private sector was one of the examiners and that further members of the private sector participated as observers.

We invite colleagues from the private sector to become involved at your local training sites and thank those whom are already involved.

Yours sincerely.
